The Presentation of the Lord
February 2, 2014

THE PRESENTATION OF THE LORD:

Consecration Through Sacrifice

It is considered one of the “Joyful Mysteries,” but the Presentation of the Lord in the Temple is complex. It has layers of meaning. In the Eastern Church, it is called Hypapante or the Feast of Encounters. It is a meeting of the Old and the New, the fulfillment of prophecies. There is much more before us than an old man and an old woman admiring a baby! Like Israel itself, aged Simeon and Anna have been waiting for a glimpse of the Messiah. Faithful and vigilant, they have observed the Law and anticipate a new age of light and glory. In their encounter, Simeon and Anna recognize that that age has begun.

But for all the joy that is present at the moment of Simeon’s encounter with the Lord, there is a new prophecy of pain and sorrow. When Simeon speaks to Mary, he predicts:

“Behold, this child is destined for the fall and the rise of many in Israel, and to be a sign that will be contradicted - - and you yourself a sword will pierce - - that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.”

Thus, even in the joy of the encounter there is sorrow. When the Divine Infant comes into “His Father’s House” for the first time, there is a foreshadowing of the passion, a sacrificial victim and redemption.

There is also a beginning and an end. The Old Temple is destined for destruction. The New Temple of Christ’s Body is to be sacrificed on Calvary and be raised up for eternity! Were it not for Simeon’s prophecy, it would be easy to look upon the Presentation as a conventional moment of triumph . . . a consecration with surrogate sacrifice.

What Joseph and Mary did for Jesus - - presenting Him in the Temple - - was in compliance of the Law.

“Every male that opens the womb shall be consecrated to the Lord.”

Faithful Jews “presented” their first-born to God. They sacrificed their live-stock and “bought back” their sons. The ritual recalls how, during the final days of Israel’s captivity, Egypt’s firstborn sons and animals died at the hands of the “exterminating angel.” Israel’s firstborn were spared. They were freed. . . redeemed by God.

In the “presentation” ceremony, animals were sacrificed. That was the “price” of redemption. In Leviticus 5 and Leviticus 12, the sacrificial “substitutes” to “buy back” a son were either a year old lamb or a pair of turtledoves or pigeons. The lamb was the gift of the wealthy. The doves were the offering of the poor.

We see in the sacrificial offering of Joseph and Mary that theirs was an offering of the poor. One dove was offered in adoration, the other for sin. The future of Jesus - - especially His Passion and Death - - is anticipated here. His Death for the sins of the world is the ultimate sin offering: His worshipful love and obedience to the Father’s Will are perfect adoration.

The humble sacrifice of Mary and Joseph at the Presentation and the awesome sacrifice of the Cross should teach us a simple truth. What we have is not our own. It is God’s gift. We are stewards, not owners of creation!

As we prepare for To Teach Who Christ Is, we should keep this truth in mind. We should also remember that our offerings should reflect what we have been given. Thus, an appeal to our generosity acknowledges that there cannot be equal gifts. But in doing our best - - in being generous - - there can be equal sacrifices.

Sacrifice is an essential part of consecration. We consecrate, in the way the widow with her small coins contributed to the Temple treasury. She did not sacrifice what should could spare, but what she had to live on!

Close

When my daughters were little, we had a ritual every evening to put away their toys. They'd scurry around, gather up their items, and bring them to me where I knelt beside the toy box. As they'd bring each beloved plaything, I'd open the lid, and we'd each say, “Good night, block,” or “Good night, Noah's ark,” and then they'd place that toy in the box. This ritual was a way of helping them wind down while bringing the evening to a close. Endings matter in a family—even the end of an ordinary day. They deserve a bit of care. Small endings handled well prepare our children for bigger endings, such as friends moving, getting cut from a team, or losing a loved pet or family member. Pay attention to endings, and give them their due. —Tom McGrath

St. Vincent de Paul Ministry 2013 Report to Parish

*Amen I say to you:
Whatever you did for one of the least of my brethren, you did it for me.
Matthew 25:40*

During the past calendar year, with the support of your donations, the St. Vincent de Paul Ministry was able to continue its work on behalf of the needy within our community. The cases continued to grow more complex. We find ourselves helping more and more with non-food assistance such as rent, temporary housing expenses, medical expenses, utility bills, transportation expenses and communications expenses. These types of cases tend to be more time consuming and require greater due diligence on behalf of our volunteers. They also put greater demands on our financial resources. All in all, we handled 157 cases during 2013, many of which required considerable follow up. Last year we lost our valued partners at the Four Flags Jewel store when it closed. Jewel management and employees had helped us with discounts on our holiday food baskets and had even donated several baskets. We miss them and fondly remember their generosity. It was a challenge to find a new vendor for these activities, but we were able to continue these important programs. Food donations from generous parishioners—some of them anonymous—helped greatly:

- During Easter week, we delivered 16 food baskets. Most of the food was purchased from other Jewel stores.
- During Thanksgiving season, we delivered 18 food baskets, most of which we purchased from Meijer.
- During Christmas season, we delivered 15 food baskets, 14 of which were donated—along with toys—by the Morton Grove Fire Department. The Morton Grove Fire Department has partnered with us for several years on this program. Every year they astound us with their generosity. However, this year they outdid themselves. Led by Firefighter Erik Miller, the MGFDD put together the biggest food baskets we've ever seen. The gifts for the children were also sensational, even including winter jackets. Additionally, we distributed turkeys and gift certificates that were donated by parishioners.

Forty-five parishioners participated in our Giving Tree events at Glenbridge Nursing & Rehabilitation, Niles Nursing & Rehabilitation and Golfview Developmental Center. We believe it was the biggest turnout ever.

Our food pantry continues to be a welcome source of can goods, cereals, pasta, tuna fish and other nourishing staples for many of our clients. The food collection at the Song of Mark performance was so abundant that we cancelled the traditional Thanksgiving food drive. For the third year in a row we have augmented our stock of non-perishable items with frozen chicken that was generously shared with us by OLPH.

Other ministry assistance activities included the following during 2013:

- Assisted by other parishioners, we provided and served food at Catholic Charities in Des Plaines on two occasions, feeding approximately 160 people.
- We contributed to the Archdiocesan relief effort following the typhoon in the Philippines.
- We delivered the leftover St. Joseph Table food to the Carmelite Convent in Des Plaines and the Holy Spirit Convent in Glenview.
- Bite-size spiritual formation (prayer/discussion/readings) was incorporated into the group's monthly meetings and a special session was held to discuss "Serving the Poor: Theology of Practice and Ministry."
- We added prayer cards and a selection of spiritual readings to the resources that are available for members handling client cases.
- We helped eight SIJ families in need to pay Catholic education tuition expenses.
- In an effort to improve communications to the parish community, our Secretary, Joyce Mills, published 22 articles in the bulletin about the ministry.

As the demands for our assistance shifts from food to more complex requirements, we have spent much time and discussion on the topic of outreach versus stewardship. We are committed to pursuing our mission, but we strive to do it in a way that manifests good stewardship of the donations you entrust to us. We have reviewed and revised our guidelines as situations have changed and as we have gained experience dealing with the various challenges. We will continue to prioritize this topic in 2014.

We added four new members during 2013. If you think you might be interested in participating in this critically important work of helping those in need within our community, please contact the parish office. One of our members will get back to you to discuss joining our ministry.

On behalf of the ministry and all those who received assistance, thank you for your donations and your prayers. Without your continuing support, we would not be able to continue this work.

Peace,
Joe DeSario
Chairperson

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

By Candlemas, forty days after Christmas, February 2, the season of Christ's coming has depleted our candle supply. Soon, the parish will order a new paschal candle from a catalogue or candlemaker, or in some communities, wax will be collected to be melted and molded. Last year's paschal candle shows the wear and tear of summer heat, or many funerals or baptisms. Paschal candles have been around since at least the fourth century, when Constantine's biographer Eusebius reported that the night of the sacred vigil was "transformed into the brilliancy of day, by lighting throughout the city pillars of wax, while burning lamps in every place so that the splendor of this night was brighter than the brightest daylight." Light was a precious commodity in the ancient world, and this lavish use of precious beeswax was a sign of the Christian's call to bear Christ's light into the world's darkness. In a pre-electric age, a whole city aglow from the paschal flame must have been a glorious sight, and a reminder to every baptized Christian of our vocation to "be the light of the world."

FRIDAY NIGHT AT THE MOVIES PRESENTS...

"Moonstruck" on Valentine's Day, February 14th! Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and the feature begins at 7 p.m. It's from 1987 and stars Cher, Nicholas Cage, Olympia Dukakis, with great songs by Dean Martin and Vicki Carr. A bookkeeper from Brooklyn finds herself in a difficult situation when she falls for the brother of the man she agreed to marry (who was the best friend of her late husband who died seven years earlier). She's convinced her first marriage was cursed because they had married at City Hall. This time, she determined to do things right, even if she's not really in love with her fiancé. What follows makes for a warm and charming film just perfect for a Valentine's Day evening. There'll be complimentary popcorn and soda and even some Valentine cupcakes to enjoy. Come and bring your friends and neighbors. There's a free-will offering if you choose.

January 17, 2014

Fr. Luczak,

Greetings from Maternity BVM. As the new year is well under way, I look back to 2013 and give thanks to God for you and your parishioners for their prayers and generous financial contributions to Maternity BVM. We are grateful.

We have also suffered a great loss in our community. Fr. Tom Pelton, Pastor Emeritus, was called home to our Lord suddenly on January 3, 2014. We continue to heal.

Your parish and parishioners have always been extremely generous to Maternity BVM. The support we receive from you goes a long way in helping us to support our mission here in Chicago's Humboldt Park Neighborhood. I look forward to having a more profound relationship with St. Isaac Jogues this year. Please let me know how I can be of help. In the meantime, let us be joyful.

God Bless you. God Bless the good and generous people of St. Isaac Jogues Parish.

Sincerely,

Rev. Kevin M. Birmingham
